

Statons

Premier Lettings

An extra dimension to Statons estate agency

Our simple aim is to serve our Landlords in the same way that the sales side of the business serves its Vendors. By placing customer service and integrity at the forefront of our mission, the subsequent expansion into the lettings arena has been seamless and highly successful, and continues to grow at a steady pace.

We draw our tenants from many different sources and do not just advertise properties and wait for the ideal applicant to walk through the door. Our pro-active and extensive approach to marketing often means that we are able to make our existing database of applicants consider solutions to their accommodation needs that they have not realised at the outset of their search.

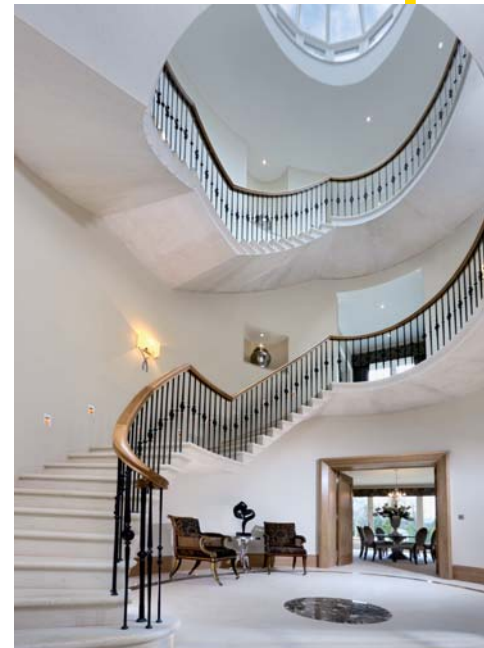

From premier league football stars and A-list celebrities, to MD's of blue chip companies, from private individuals to families in transition who have sold, our applicants are as diverse as our landlords and the comprehensive, tailored letting solution we offer reflects and encompasses those needs in full.

At Statons we have very strong links with Embassies in London and are called on to place High Ranking Military Officers, Diplomats and Embassy staff into rental accommodation many times a year. We have also carried out in-depth market analysis and provided reports on the "prime London rental market" for these institutions and their respective government foreign offices abroad.

Some Embassies use Statons Premier Lettings exclusively for their rental requirements as a result of our truly unique service, consistent successes and years of trust in our name.

The personal touch in property lettings
