A desirable place to live

Radlett is a popular village in Hertfordshire surrounded by beautiful countryside, yet its close proximity to London and excellent motorway and transport links make it an ideal location to live. The high street has a good selection of shops and cafés, there are numerous leisure facilities in the Village, as well as many places of worship, plus proximity to outstanding state and private educational provision for all ages.

The centre of Radlett, offering a range of both convenience and boutique shops, is a 400 metre walk away. The popular Battlers Green rural shopping village, just a mile up the hill, provides farm fresh food, style and fashion goods plus a fitness club.

There are regular services from the mainline station into St Pancras International (25 minutes) for connection to regional rail networks and London Underground.

The area is well provided for in terms of sports and leisure, with cricket, rugby, lawn tennis and squash clubs, as well as Porters Park Golf Club. This is complemented by an array of productions, concerts and exhibitions hosted at The Radlett Centre auditorium and more than a dozen pubs, restaurants and cafés.

Prestigious schools such as Haberdashers' Aske's, Aldenham, Edge Grove, North London Collegiate, Manor Lodge, Radlett Prep and Yavneh College are all a short car journey away.

Arguably, one of Radlett's greatest advantages are its superb transport links; both the M25 and M1 motorways are within 4 miles, making it possible to reach Stansted, Luton or Heathrow airports within 40 minutes. Likewise, excellent rail links from Radlett and the nearby Watford Junction offer rapid services into central London, St Albans City, and the North of England.
